

Course 902 – Seminar Program

Planning for research success in 2019

Sunday 17 February, 10am to 12.30pm

Presenter: Julia Trainor

Members $25, Non-Members $35

Let's kick-start 2019 with a personal research plan! The purpose of this seminar is to inspire participants to make 2019 a successful year for their genealogy research. The seminar will bring together members at every stage of their research, from novice to veteran. Participants will be guided through all the elements of a good research plan. Together we will share our ideas on setting goals, developing strategies, cultivating the discovery of resources, developing our personal expertise, integrating DNA into the plan, and writing and documenting as we go. The aim is for each participant to take away a personal and realistic research plan that will help make 2019 a successful year for their genealogy.

The workshop will include a presentation on using the HAGSOC Library catalogue. Making good use of available resources is a key element of any research plan.

Julia is an experienced librarian and project manager and implemented HAGSoC's online catalogues in 2010 and 2017
